

What do you think Wellington City Libraries
will look like 175 years from now?

Wellington City Libraries 175th Birthday Design Competition

It's our birthday, but the presents could be yours! Enter our design competition to win prizes of Lego, books or Reading Cinema vouchers!

The first library in Wellington was a small hut on the waterfront with no electricity or computers. Wellingtonians of 175 years ago would not recognise our libraries today – things have changed! How do you think libraries will change in the future? What do you think Wellington City Libraries will look like 175 years from now?

Draw your idea of the future Wellington City Libraries to enter our Birthday Design Competition.

This competition is open to children aged 9-13 years old.

Please fill in your details below:

Name: _____

Age: _____

Library card number: _____

Contact details (phone or email): _____

Rules for entry

- This design competition is open to all 9-13 year olds.
- Only one entry per person will be accepted.
- Entries close on 29th November 2015. Only entries received on or before this date will be considered.
- Winners will be selected and notified on 1 December 2015.
- Wellington City Libraries will make reasonable attempts to contact the winner.
- Another winner will be drawn if contact cannot be made.
- Judges' decisions are final and no correspondence will be entered into.
- The winning prize packs cannot be exchanged for cash or similar, or another prize.
- Entry gives permission to Wellington City Libraries to display submissions in the libraries or on library webpages and social media. No payment will be made in any such case.
- Your contact information will be kept confidential by Wellington City Council and not disclosed or sold to any other party.